

SOCIAL COMMUNITY DISCLAIMER

We welcome and encourage open discussion on the online media sites of Faith Technologies Incorporated (FTI) and our divisions (Faith Technologies, EnTech Solutions and Exccelerate), including but not limited to our company blogs, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and YouTube, and look forward to the comments, stories and experiences participants want to share.

We make reasonable efforts to monitor our channels to ensure participation and conversations stay on topic, and participants are respectful, truthful and not making offensive or obscene comments. Additionally, FTI discourages anyone from disclosing personally identifiable information like location, financial information, etc.

The opinions and/or views expressed on FTI's online media platforms represent the thoughts of individual bloggers and online communities, and not necessarily those of FTI as a company, or any of its employees, directors or officers. Additionally, FTI does not endorse any content found in links to external websites, the views they express or the products/services they offer. FTI is not responsible for the content of external websites or their advertising.

In an effort to provide timely and accurate content to its social communities, FTI strives for up-to-date and factually correct information. However, FTI does not control or guarantee the accuracy, relevance, timeliness or completeness of information contained on a linked website. In addition, FTI strives to respond in a timely manner to messages, comments, questions or concerns on its social media platforms; however, there are circumstances where this may be out of our control.

FTI reserves the sole right to review, edit and/or delete any comments or posts it deems inappropriate. Comments of the following nature may be deleted or edited by the moderator. Repeated action may result in removal of the posting party from our platforms.

- Abusive or hurtful comments
- Off-topic or redundant comments (this includes promotion of events, groups, pages, websites, organizations and programs not related to or affiliated with FTI)
- Comments that use foul language or "hate speech" (e.g. racial, ethnic or gender insensitive language)
- Personal attacks or defamatory statements or comments
- Comments that violate the privacy of a blogger or another participant
- Comments that suggest or encourage illegal activity
- Comments with links that contain viruses, spam or malicious software

By submitting content to any of FTI's social media sites, you understand and acknowledge that this information is available to the public, can be modified or removed at any time by FTI, and that FTI may use this information for internal and/or external promotional and fundraising purposes.

Please note that social community participants may use the posted information of other participants beyond the control of FTI. If you do not wish to have the information you have made available via the site used, published, copied and/or reprinted, please do not post on these pages.
